

MAKES YOU FEEL

(Murray/Butcher/Djilaynga/Heckenberg/Jacobi)

Well I been out in the desert and I been down in the city too
And everywhere I went I saw a terrible truth
I went lookin' for my brother
I couldn't recognise him at first
He'd aged far beyond his years
To prove that drinkin' is a curse

It makes you feel
It makes you feel like you've been somehow had
And all your time's been wasted
And you'll never have your youth again
All of that's been taken

This woman here before me
Was once a beauty so fine and fair
But she burned away her flower
In fights and booze and tears
And we've used up all our chances
Chasin' stars on a one-way street
And now our hands are empty
And none of us can speak

It makes you feel
It makes you feel like you've been somehow had
And all your time's been wasted
And you'll never have your youth again
All of that's been taken
It's been taken

Well I'm headin' back to the desert
Straight for the settin' sun
And I have more days behind me now
More days than I have to come
I don't know if I'll get there
Or find anything I can keep
I just hope I can recover some of the sleep
That I have missed

It makes you feel
It makes you feel like you've been somehow had
And all your time's been wasted
And you'll never have your youth again
All of that's been taken
It's been taken
It's been taken
